RUBBER NEWS*Goodrich Company Buys Land*Which New Building Will Occupy.*Kokomo Co. Has Signed License Agreement.

The B. F. Goodrich Co. has purchased of A. A. Brewster and others and of the Brewster Coal Co., land on which its large addition will be built this spring. The first parcel is 80.20 feet on Main st., just north of the rubber works for which $3,125 was paid, and the second is land in the rear of this, near Rubber st., for which $7,500 was paid. The purchases extend the holdings of the Goodrich Co. north to the belt line railroad. The plans for the Goodrich Co.'s new building are about ready and work will go forward in the early spring.

The Kokomo Rubber Co., of Kokomo, Ind., has signed the new license agreement with the Single Tube Automobile & Bicycle Tire Co., under the Tillinghast tire patent, the validity of which was recently settled by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The Kokomo company was the only single tube tire-making concern that was holding out against the new agreement. The licensees are now as follows: Hartford Rubber Works Co., Diamond Rubber Co., Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., B. F. Goodrich Co., India Rubber Co., Pennsylvania Rubber Co., Kokomo Rubber Co., Fisk Rubber Co., Boston Woven Hose & Rubber Co., International Automobile & Vehicle Tire Co., and the International Rubber & Insulated Wire Co.

WARDEN'S WIFE HELPED MURDERERS TO ESCAPE.

This city," said Chief of Police Corner, today. "They are also wanted at Erie, Pa., and a number of other places. The Biddle brothers are bad men. They are probably the most daring burglars that are known in the profession today. A man's life is nothing to them, and they will take long chances for small sums."

HEADED THIS WAY.*Biddles May Have Caught P. & W. Train.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—A report is current that the Biddles escaped from the city along the Pittsburg & Western R. R. Scores of people at Etina, Pine Creek and Sharpsburg claim to have seen them.

Whether they caught a train is not known.

WOMAN*Called on Gov. Stone in Behalf of the Biddles.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—A mysterious woman recently called upon Gov. Stone and pleaded with him to pardon the Biddle brothers, who escaped this morning from the Pittsburg jail. The woman was about 22 years old, dressed in the height of fashion and made a special request to the Governor not to disclose her name. The Executive declined to pardon the brothers, but granted a respite that their case might be heard by the Board of Pardons, on Wednesday next, on an application for a commutation of a sentence to life imprisonment. When he learned that it was supposed that Mrs. Soffel, wife of the warden, was the woman who visited him he gave out a statement, denying that his visitor was Mrs. Soffel. His statement follows:

"The lady who called upon me was not Mrs. Soffel, and had no possible connection with her. She is a lady of respectability in Pittsburg who came merely out of sympathy from reading the proceedings of the trial as many other sympathetic people come."

TROUBLE*In South End Restaurant.*Mrs. Her's Hip Broken by a Fall.*Was Pushed Aside by a Combative Boarder.

There was a great deal of serious trouble at the Goodrich restaurant, 971 South Main st., Wednesday noon, which advanced from a stage where bad language was used, to invitations to "pull coats," and show the kind of stuff each side was made of. The trouble which had begun in a report, by a mutual friend that Charles Ruble had said he could whip Laurence Cox, broke out at the dinner table Wednesday, while there were a number of people at dinner. Cox declared himself and one John Mack, announced that if Cox was looking for trouble, he could get it by coming outside. Cox arose took the chair upon which he had been seated, and called for his hat, saying that he was ready for fight.

When Cox called for the hat, Mrs. Nancy Her, aged 70, not knowing of the trouble, got it for him, but he was rushing blindly out, and Mrs. Her, being in his way, was pushed aside. This resulted in a fall for Mrs. Her, who broke her hip and the trouble ended as quickly as it had begun. Mrs. Her was taken to the hospital where she now lies, in a serious condition, because of her great age. No arrests have been made.

SYNDICATE'S*Affairs Are Now Progressing*Toward a Sale of Part of the Properties.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 30.—Some important developments are expected in connection with the affairs of the Everett-Moore syndicate at a meeting of the Bankers' committee to be held late this afternoon. Chairman Newcombe, of the committee, returned today from a trip over the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line, made for the purpose of inspecting the physical condition of the property.

As a result of Mr. Newcombe's inspection tour it is believed that some definite action will be taken today relative to the sale of that road. Henry A. Everett returned from New York today, where he went several days since, to secure, if possible, the co-operation of bankers in that city in financing some of the Everett-Moore traction and telephone lines. Mr. Everett, it is understood, will make a report to the committee at this afternoon's meeting.

CARD OF THANKS.

We extend to all the friends, neighbors, singers, Nemo Lodge, Webster, Camp & Lane employees, Coremakers' Union, and especially Mrs. Lee, our heartfelt thanks for the many acts of kindness and loving words of sympathy given during our very sad bereavement. Also for the beautiful floral designs.

Mrs. S. J. Morris and Daughter, Mrs. Jane Morris and Family.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our thanks to the Rev. James Blake and singers, also to our friends who so kindly contributed their services and beautiful floral offerings during the illness and death of our mother.

Geo. H. Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Taylor.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS.*BELIEVE HE WILL WIN.

Akron sports believe that Art Simms will be able to defeat Curley Supplies easily, provided the two fighters are matched, through the efforts of Art's manager, Bert Matheson. It is regarded as probable that this match will be the means of getting more and bigger fights for the Akron fighter, whose plans were all changed through the decision having gone against him at Detroit, Jan. 22.

Aside from the prospect of a fight with Curley Supplies, which is as yet much of an uncertainty, Art has no definite plans at present.

Personal and Social

Mr. Elias H. Frederick, of Loyal Oak, and Miss Minnie M. Whitworth, of Western Star, were married Wednesday afternoon by Rev. C. E. Keller in his study at the parsonage of Trinity Lutheran church.

At 130 North Summit st. Wednesday evening, Rev. C. E. Keller united in marriage Mr. Homer Denny of Suffolk, and Miss Harriet Cooper, of Akron, until recently of McDonald, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Denny will make their home in Akron.

Rev. M. B. Pratt will deliver the Lincoln day address to the students of Union college, Feb. 12.

A. B. M. Hastings went to Hudson, Thursday, on business.

Nathan Engelman is the guest of friends in this city.

Mr. Chas. Hoover returned Wednesday from Rochester, N. Y., where he was a guest at the Lang-Goldschmidt wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Collins entertained the choir of the First M. E. church, Wednesday evening, at their home, 115 North High st. Music was the feature of the evening. Mr. Francis Koons sang several solos that were highly appreciated. Light refreshments were served.

A surprise party was given Mr. Otis Reid at his home on Home st., Tuesday evening. Card playing was enjoyed.

Miss Mabel Landenslager has returned home from a 10 days' visit among relatives and friends at Brimfield.

The Epicurean club gave the third of its series of dances, Wednesday evening in Rose hall. Seventy-five couples attended. Stickles' orchestra furnished the music.

The Joliet club danced Wednesday in Millant hall to the strains of Barron's orchestra. Forty couples were present and spent a most delightful evening. The hours were from 8 to 12.

Prof. Barron will give a masquerade ball Tuesday night in Millant hall for his classes. Confetti throwing will be a feature.

Mr. P. D. Stratton went to Conneaut, Thursday, in the interests of the Chevalliers.

Mr. Norman Dailey entertained his Sunday school class of the Main st. M. E. church at his home on Harvard st. Wednesday night. About forty were present. The earlier part of the evening was spent in a flower contest. Miss Flora Smith and Mr. Howard Reimes were each awarded a handsome prize, and Miss Dora Thornton and Mr. Charles Sarchet received the consolation prizes. Mr. Dailey possessed a box with which he sent an occasional current of electricity through the crowd, thus keeping the party thoroughly animated. The guests were then escorted to the tip-top room, known as the attic, where a tip-top supper awaited them and where they listened to a history of the class, written by Miss Edna Prange.

WHOLESALE-DORAN. The marriage of Mr. Charles H. Wheeler, and Miss Mame Doran, both well known Akron young people, will be celebrated at the residence of Dr. T. P. Mahar, Thursday evening, after which the young people will leave for a wedding trip. It will be a very quiet wedding, as the friends of both Mr. Wheeler and Miss Doran have threatened to give them an enthusiastic send-off. On returning to Akron they will make their home with the bride's mother, 433 West Center st. Mr. Wheeler is assistant secretary for the India Rubber Co. and Miss Doran has been a stenographer in the company's office for some time past.

INGALLS-GREENWOOD.

The wedding of Mr. John G. Ingalls, treasurer of the Akron China Co., and Miss May Greenwood, also of Akron, Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, was a quiet affair. There were no attendants, and immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. T. E. Monroe, at his residence, the bride and groom left on a wedding tour. They will be gone a week, and upon their return an elaborate reception will be held at the home of the groom's parents, on North Forge st. Both the bride and groom are well known and popular. Mr. Ingalls is one of Akron's most progressive young business men. He has been connected with the Akron China Co. for several years.

DEATHS.

VAILE—Wm. Joel Vaile, infant son, of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Vaile, of 125 East North st., died Thursday of marasmus. Funeral services will be held from the residence at 10:30 a.m. Friday. Interment in Glendale.

MASTERLY*Addresses and a Good Time.*Banquet at Buchtel Last Night*By Society of Sons of American Revolution.

What was one of the most pleasant events of the Akron social season, was the banquet at the Buchtel, Wednesday night, which was given by the Akron contingent of the Western Reserve Society of the Sons of the Revolution. There were excellent toasts, interesting and entertaining addresses, and a delightful menu was furnished for the further pleasures of the guests. Covers had been laid for 40 guests, but there were quite a number of those invited who were unable to attend.

This did not seriously mar the success of the banquet, however. The invocation was by Rev. C. E. Keller, and L. C. Miles was toastmaster. The toasts were responded to as follows:

"Sons of the American Revolution," E. P. Otis; "Revolutionary Soldiers of the Western Reserve," Karl Kendrick; "McKinley as a Christian Statesman," Rev. George Harrison McGrew of Cleveland; "Our Flag," Percy W. Leavitt; "Valley Forge," Prof. Mattoon Monroe Curtis, of Adelbert College; "Our Country," Rev. Howard S. MacAyeal.

The following were among those who were present: M. F. Anderson, Rev. C. E. Keller, Dr. G. H. McGrew, Prof. Mattoon Curtis, Percy W. Leavitt, Walter K. Means, R. H. Wright, George M. Wright, W. B. Doyle, L. C. Miles, Rev. H. S. MacAyeal, Karl Kendrick, E. E. Otis, E. P. Otis, Treasurer Marshall, of the Western Reserve Society, Messrs. Knight and Thomas of Cleveland, John Wright, H. A. Kasson and F. H. Mason.

The management at the Empire House is installing a private telephone exchange by means of which it will be possible for a guest to speak with another party in this city or in Barberton or Cuyahoga Falls, without leaving the room. This is only one of the improvements which Manager J. I. Breunler has under consideration.

A few contributions were received at the banquet Wednesday for the McKinley memorial fund, but the greater part that is to be raised will come from the sub-committees, appointed by the general committee for personal solicitation.

THE WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF THE First Congregational church, will meet at the residence of Mr. J. W. Dugan, 554 East Buchtel ave., on Friday, Jan. 31, at 2:30 p.m. All are cordially invited.

SPELL AGAINST AGUE.

Something That Lincolnshire People Consider Better Than Quinine.

A correspondent recently sent to me the following scrap of folk-lore from Tennyson's county. I rather think that the Folk Lore society has published the rhyme, received from the same authority. But it was new to myself, and doubtless will be to many, writes Andrew Lang, in Longmans' Magazine.

"I wonder if you have ever seen the following charm for ague, which I believe I may claim to have rescued from the midden of the past myself. 'I am a North Lincolnshire man by birth and upbringing, and, thanks to my dear mother, always keep open eyes and ears for folk-lore.'"

"We used to have a lot of ague about when I was a lad, and my mother used the village folk with quinine. She sent me one day with a bottle to the house of an old grandame whose grandson was down with the shivers."

"But when I produced it she said: 'Nay, lad, I know a traw a soight better cure than yon mucky stuff.' 'And with that she took me round to the foot of his bed, an old four-post. There on the bottom board were fixed three horseshoes, points upward (of course), with a hammer laid 'sloshways' over them. Taking it in her hand, she said:

"'Fyther, son, an' Holy Ghost, Naigle I send dyvels tew this post; With this nail I throve du knock, One for God, An' one for Lok.'"

"Is not it an extraordinary instance of a mingling of old Norse paganism and Christianity? Thor's Mallet and Christ's cross, the Christian Trinity, and Thor, Woden and Loki."

That Thor, Woden and Loki should be remembered even in a population partly of Norse origin, is so unexpected that I have tried to explain it away. Thor is not named, though his hammer is; "Lok" might be a nonsense rhyme, but "Lok"—I am unable to explain away Lok, and he brings the others in his train. If this is all right, what a "mashy" of not marking" sermons and Bible readings the Lincolnshire people must have!

HOUSES SCARCE IN BARBERTON.*Big Building Boom Predicted For Spring.

(Special Correspondence.)

Barberton, Jan. 30.—There promises to be a greater building boom here, as soon as spring opens, than there was last year. Houses are especially scarce, and there is a great demand for them already. Transfers of real estate are numerous.

The completion of the Barberton Pottery Co. will mean that a large number of houses will be required, and the extension of the facilities of the Stirling Boiler Co. will mean an additional demand for houses, as more and more men are employed here.

TEARS*And Money For a Fraud.*A Note of Warning to Preachers.*Suicide Story Told at Revivals is a Fake.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 30.—Chief of Police Corner has sounded a warning to ministers, telling them to beware of one John Staub, alias Miller, alias Kinney. The man works his game in churches where revival services are being held. When the religious fervor is at its height Staub begins operations. He gets an opportunity to speak and, between sobs, tells how he was on the verge of committing suicide when he was providentially drawn into the house of worship.

His story catches the sympathy of his hearers. They crowd about him. He shows a letter of farewell to his mother. Sometimes he produces a bottle of carbolic acid or, if not, he tells how he had determined to throw himself under car wheels.

His story is a strong one and a purse is usually collected. The money is handed over and the remarkable stranger leaves the church. Such was done at the Russell Street Baptist church in Columbus last Friday night and the congregation did not realize that it had been duped till reports of similar actions came from Dayton and Brooklyn, N. Y. The same game had been worked there with consummate ease. When the would-be suicide bade goodby to Columbus he said he was coming to Cleveland to see his poor, old mother.

The man is 47 years of age, medium height and wears a full black beard.

SALT AND PEPPER.

Many Think They Are Only of Value in Seasoning Food.

Salt and pepper, as generally considered, are of value in bringing out the flavor of the food to which they are added. That they have any value from a health standpoint is not so generally recognized. You may know that a lump of salt is good for a horse, but you do not stop to consider how important salt is for your own well being. In eastern countries the condiments, such as pepper, are used to profusion in all foods. Gastric troubles common enough in other countries are conspicuously absent, and the free use of pepper has much to do with that fact. Salt and pepper work against fermentation. When the stomach is out of order, or, as the common saying is, upset, it is in a state of fermentation.

A certain very wise physician who has advanced to the point where drugs seem the unimportant thing and common sense the important in making the sick well is advocating the use of pepper and salt even in a glass of milk. It improves the flavor to a remarkable degree, a fact you can prove to your own satisfaction by taking two glasses of milk, one in its original simplicity, the other changed by the addition of a pinch of salt and a dash of pepper, then sip a little of each. The chances are that you will prefer the seasoned milk. Besides improving the flavor and overcoming the tendency toward fermentation the pepper will practically dislodge any microbes that may be floating in the fluids. Thus the gastric juices will perform their perfect work of changing microbes to food.

One of the best remedies for a disturbed digestion is hot water to which have been added salt and paprika. If taken a full hour and a half before breakfast, a cupful of this very palatable drink will completely cleanse the stomach and leave it in good condition. Out of a hundred persons selected at random it is no exaggeration to say that eighty eat too much and also that these same eighty fall of proper inactivity. Weakened digestion is of course the direct result of overeating and insufficient mastication, and weakened digestion means undigested system. At the extremes of life, youth and old age, it is wisdom to make the diet much the same. A child's nourishment should be very simple, so in old age it should grow plainer and plainer. —Chicago Tribune.

SUIT*Against The Theatre Association.*Robinson-Merrill Pottery Co. Sued For Damages.

Augustus Rowe has sued the Amalgamated Theatre Association for $5,000 damages. He was injured last fall while working on the Colonial Opera house. Ordinarily, the suit would have been against Contractor E. Horn, but that gentleman is a stockholder in the Association. Rowe claims his injuries were the result of carelessness on the part of the contractor.

OTHER DAMAGE SUITS.

John T. Kline and John P. Eagan, who were injured in an explosion Nov. 5, 1901, while blasting clay for the Robinson-Merrill Pottery Co., have sued the company for damages. Kline asks for $15,300, and Eagan, for $10,300. They allege that they were unduly hurried by the foreman while blasting, and were not provided with proper tools.

The Little Girl Paid.

I heard an interesting anecdote of Jacob Grimm the other day. One of his prettiest tales ends with the words "whoever refuses to believe this story owes me a thaler."

One winter morning a little Jewish girl rang the doorbell and asked the servant if Herr Professor Jacob Grimm was at home. When informed that he was not, she said politely:

"Will you please hand him this thaler when he returns?"

The servant took the coin, glanced at it curiously and inquired who sent it and what it was for.

"I owe him the money myself," said the little girl.

"Why? What for?"

"Because I don't believe the story about the wolf."—Berlin Letter in Chicago Record-Herald.

A Translator's Story.

An interesting little story attaches to the volume of Swedish fairy tales which Mr. H. L. Brackstad has translated. Years ago a Swedish friend gave Mr. Brackstad a book, saying, "Here is something you will like." He turned over the pages with the remark, "It isn't Swedish, is it, for I know Swedish?" "Not Swedish," was the reply, "but Swedish dialect." "Ah," said Mr. Brackstad, "can I manage to read it?" He tried several times, not very successfully. But one day he began to read the dialect aloud, and then he understood it at once. It resembled the dialect of a part of his own country, Denmark, and had been taken down phonetically.—London Chronicle.

She Had Improved.

The Princess Charlotte, daughter of George IV., was a young woman of great spirit and originality. One day one of her teachers chanced to enter the room when the princess was reviling one of her attendant ladies in great wrath, and, after giving her a lecture on hasty speech, he presented her with a book on the subject.

A few days later he found her still more furious and using language even more violent. "I am sorry to find your royal highness in such a passion," said he. "Your royal highness has not read the book I gave you."

"I did, my lord," cried she tempestuously. "I both read it and profited by it. Otherwise I should have scratched her eyes out!"
